DYNAMIC VS. STATIC

Dynamic Character - a character which changes permanently during the course of a story or novel.

Example: The character Scrooge was very stingy. He had no sympathy for the poor and his experiences with the ghosts that visited him, he changed his ways, giving his employees a raise that far wage, providing day off work and actually giving gifts.

Static Character - a character that remains primarily the same throughout a story or novel. Events in the story do not alter their outlook, personality, motivation, etc.

Example: Bert, a boring, ordinary, when I organize his files properly he can see some of the good will customers. Finally his boss gets fed up with Bert's struggle for months to find a new career path. The car is repossessed for non-payment and he loses his job. Bert finally finds a new job. He is a static character. He is a boring person, the new boss may see him as a boring person with an important position.

Immerse Yourself in the Unstoppable Rise and Potential Fall

Join Ray on his extraordinary journey as he builds a corporate empire, faces formidable challenges, and navigates the impending financial crisis. Experience the thrill of victory, the sting of betrayal, and the uncertainty of a world on the brink of collapse.
