Prepare to be swept away by the enchanting verses of Rhian Hoccom, one of Wales's most celebrated poets. Pa Synau Glywaf (The Sweetest Sounds) is a testament to the lyrical beauty of the Welsh language and the power of poetry to capture the essence of human experience.

A Journey into Nature's Embrace

Hoccom's poems are a love letter to the natural world. Through evocative language and vivid imagery, she paints a breathtaking canvas of Wales's landscapes, from rolling hills to shimmering rivers. Her words will transport you to secluded beaches, where the sound of waves whispers secrets to the shore, and to ancient forests, where trees stand as silent guardians of time.

Excerpt:

“The wind whispers secrets Through the rustling leaves, A symphony of nature That soothes and weaves.”

Exploring the Human Spirit

Beyond her love for the natural world, Hoccom's poetry also delves into the complexities of the human spirit. She explores themes of love, loss, longing, and the search for meaning in life. Through her deeply personal verses, she invites readers to reflect on their own emotions and experiences.

Excerpt:

“In the depths of my heart, A bittersweet symphony plays, A longing for what once was, And a hope for what may come.”
