In today's world, we're all becoming increasingly aware of the importance of living sustainably. We're reducing our consumption of plastic, recycling more, and eating less meat. But what about our cleaning habits? The products we use to clean our homes can be just as harmful to the environment as the ones we use to wash our clothes or drive our cars.

That's where green cleaning comes in. Green cleaning is the practice of using environmentally friendly cleaning products and methods to clean your home. These products are made from natural ingredients and are less harmful to the environment than traditional cleaning products. Green cleaning methods also use less water and energy, which can save you money on your utility bills.

If you're thinking about making the switch to green cleaning, "The Joy of Green Cleaning" is the perfect place to start. This comprehensive guidebook will teach you everything you need to know about green cleaning, from the basics of choosing the right products to more advanced techniques like making your own cleaning solutions.
